

It doesn't take action on its own. That's the feature, not the flaw.

Intelligence you control. Automation you choose.

Start With the Data

Give your LLM access to your live and legacy data first. Understanding comes before action.

Know What SMARTvault Does

Ask questions and surface intelligence from your systems. It informs decisions, but does not act on its own.

Keep Action Separate by Design

Let the vault expose your data, not lock you into one agent. An open foundation keeps your options open.

Add Agents on Top

Bring in ready-made agents or build your own when you're ready. Point them at the same vault you already trust.

Move at Your Own Pace

Lay the foundation today and add capability later. You don't have to decide everything at once.

SMARTvault?

A librarian for your business data.

It connects the information trapped across your systems, so your people can ask a question and get a real answer.

Build the floor first. Add the agents when you're ready.
